

Science is everywhere. It is all around us, in the natural and manmade world. But have we stopped to notice the science in our immediate environment?

The Big Picture

Science Week
Competition from Mary Immaculate College

Email entries to: Michelle.Fitzpatrick@mic.ul.ie

We are asking pupils, either groups or individuals, to use their science eyes to pick out the perfect science snap in their locality. The steps are simple.

- Have a classroom conversation about what science is. What does it look like? Where can I see it?
- Identify a science scene in your school, yard, at home or in the locality.
- Take a picture of it.
- Add a caption to your photo.
- Send in your photo and caption to be in with a chance of winning a science equipment voucher for your school.

